No less than three fullbacks are on the sidelines nursing injuries that, in two cases at least, will keep them from seeing action against the all-powerful Indian team that has twice previously humbled the Spartans by decisive scores.

De Groot lost his sophomore fullback hope, "Bull" Lewis before the season even started when he broke a bone in his right foot playing sand-lot football.

New Instructors Join Faculty; Alternations Made In Personnel

Five new instructors have joined the faculty, three regular members have been transferred to other positions in the college, and one part-time assistant has become a permanent member for 1935-36, it was announced last week through the office of President T. W. MacQuarrie. Two former members of the faculty who have been away on a year's leave of absence, return this year to assume their regular duties.

Miss Thelma Hamilton joins the Home Economics department staff as instructor of clothing, replacing Miss Frances Henry; Miss Frances Robinson takes over the violin classes of Mr. Adolph Otterstein, head of the Music department, who in turn assumes the supervisory duties of the former Miss Theta Manning, now Mrs. Ed Brown; Miss Marjory Lucas replaces Miss Helen Hardenbergh in the Women's

Sparta To Laugh Again

* * * * *
Humor Magazine Soon Appears
* * * * *

Contest Decides Name

Sparta has a new baby. Humor, the child of bewildered wisdom, has come to Washington Square in the swaddling clothes of a humor magazine labeled San Jose's own.

All the light-mindedness, frivolity and spice of life lying dormant for so long on the Spartan's camp ground is to be collected and served in a laughfest, satirical dessert, the editors of the infant publication declare.

ENTIRELY NEW

Approved by the student council, the humor of the magazine will be devoted exclusively to the San Jose State student body. Student edited, managed, written and named, is the ambition of this new child.

The babe will be christened by the student body, which will participate in a contest next week in which every student will be given the opportunity to name the magazine. Details, which are being worked out for this contest, will be revealed next week.

IMPROVED PROCESS

Although young in age, the periodical will not be lacking any of the professional air. An improved new off-set process will probably be used, which, combined with modern make-up and many pictures will make the periodical as smart as tomorrow's fashions.

Pep Rally In Auditorium Tonight; Preliminary To State-Stanford Contest

DE GROOT TO INTRODUCE ENTIRE VARSITY SQUAD WITH HOWIE BURNS AS YELL LEADER AND COMPETITIVE CHEERS TO BE FEATURE EVENTS

Skits, music, and speakers are all ready to shoot the works at the gigantic "get-together" and football rally in Morris Dailey auditorium at 7:30 tonight, as a prelude to the Stanford-San Jose State grid clash Saturday.

Tonight's pep rally is the first of the season, and the rally is setting a fast and furious pace, something doing every minute. Head coach Dud DeGroot and his 40 varsity grid warriors will be introduced to the students.

INTRODUCE PLAYERS

Renewal of the fighting Spartan spirit against the tremendous odds of the Saturday game at the farm, for both old students and new students, and the introduction of players and coaches to the students is the prime purpose of the rally, states the committee.

Music by the Spartan band, several well-known speakers and a skit featuring the popular campus entertainers, Paul Becker, the Revelries Show maestro, George Ryan, and Cal Sides form the nucleus of the entertainment. Howard Burns, veteran announcer and former yell-leader, assures a

Players To Present "Macbeth" As First Production Of Year

One of the most imposing of Shakespeare's tragedies, "Macbeth", is to be the initial production of an exceedingly ambitious year to be undertaken by the San Jose players, according to Hugh W. Gillis, director of the organization. This performance is scheduled for the evenings of October 30, 31, and November 1 and 2, to be followed on December 12 and 13 by James W. Barrie's "Quality Street", as the Christmas play.

"Constant Wife", by Maugham, "Girls in Uniform", by Winslow, "Olympia", by Molnar, and a modern comedy, as yet not selected, will be presented on various dates throughout the remainder of the year.

Art Course Revived After Three Years

Community art, a course in building and community planning given here three years ago, will be offered again this quarter, according to Mrs. Ruth Turner, head of the art department.

Listed as Art 183 in the catalog, it has been revived, Mrs. Turner said, because of the increased need for and interest in town and city zoning and building information.

SPECIAL TRAIN SCHEDULE

The special train to carry Spartan rooters to the Stanford Stadium Saturday, for 40 cents round trip ticket, will observe the following schedule:

Leave front entrance at 1:15.

Arrive at Stanford at 1:45.

Leave Palo Alto at 4:50 (or waits if game delays).

Arrive in San Jose at 5:20.

San Jose State students will be admitted upon presentation of student body cards.

Gridders Shove Co-eds For Practice

Five of Coach De Groot's gridders prepare (?) for Saturday's game with Stanford on a fancy new blocking machine that is a feature of Spartan equipment this season. The young ladies are, left to right, Evelyn Norlin, Velma Gottburg, and Lee Bonfantine. The players (Oh, yes, the players) are Joe Langtagne, end; Frankie Souza, half; George Cannell, guard; Hugo Boschetti, half; and Joe Rapose, guard.

Games, Dancing Will Welcome Incoming State Students

All new students to San Jose State will be welcomed by the student body at its annual party for freshmen and transfer men and women tomorrow night in the Women's gymnasium.

Dancing, games and special novelty numbers will be featured on the program of entertainment, Paul Becker, social affairs chairman, announces.

Games will be in progress from 8 to 9 o'clock, under the supervision of the Women's Athletic Association.

A popular campus orchestra has been secured to furnish snappy rhythms for dancing from 9 o'clock until midnight, while entertainment numbers will be presented at intervals throughout the evening.

Since the purpose of the party is to entertain the new students and offer them an opportunity to become acquainted, no upper classmen will be admitted except the new transfer students. A careful checkup will be made to enforce this rule.

Twenty members of the Associated Women Students will serve as hostesses for the evening.

Just Among Ourselves

Note: This column is personal between the president and the college. Outsiders are requested not to make use of this material.

BY DR. T. W. MACQUARRIE

Be as patient as you can. There are only so many of us and no chance for more. We can't spread out much thinner than we are at present. We'll adjust as soon as possible, but if you are inconvenienced please stand it with as good grace as you can.

It's great to be living in a gang like this. I hope you feel the inspiration of it. Looks like a grand year. Problems confronting us are gigantic, but someone must attack them. This college is in a process of development. The old traditional institution with its inherited standards and its artificial dignity is passing out and a new one, keyed to the present day needs of young men and women, is developing in its place. It's great to be a part of such a transformation. It can come about only through the cooperation of all concerned. If your own needs are not being met, I shall be glad to have you come in to talk it over.

KEEP CAMPUS NEAT

Just a few remarks which I have made many times before but which are always necessary when new students arrive. It takes house-keeping in a big gang like this. Please help to keep the place neat. We are always short on caretakers and you shouldn't get into the habit of throwing papers and other rubbish around. It's the custom of San Jose State to have no smoking in any of the buildings or in the front or rear quads. Please don't smoke in front of the entrances. Cigarette stubs spoil the appearance of the place, and loitering there interferes with traffic. Throw your cigarettes away some little distance before you enter the building. It will help materially in the general neatness of the campus.

Come to classes on time and at every session. Absences cost the Junior College about $40,000 a

Alpha Pi Omega

Committees for the Alpha Pi Omega open dance on October 12 were appointed by Bob Schnabel, president of the fraternity at a meeting Wednesday night at the home of Bob Watson.

Further plans for the dance, for which bids will soon go on sale at $1.00 each, were made and rushing was discussed by the new officers: Bob Schnabel, president; Dick Brown, vice president; Preston Royer, recording secretary; Bob Watson, corresponding secretary; Jack Gruber, treasurer.

the business staff hopes to obtain enough advertisements to offer a selling price of ten cents an issue to the student body, which, it is believed, is a lower price than any humor publication.

year. Some, I know, can't be helped, but many are unnecessary. The more money the college receives the more may be spent on you. Please keep away from the High School. They have their own crowding problem. If we include the Evening High School their enrollment is about one and one-half times ours. That means about 7,000 people on this campus daily. It's not fair for college students to dominate high school groups. The students there are entitled to run their own affairs.

SAY HELLO!

One more little thing. I have a personal habit of saying "hello" to students. It's about the only opportunity I have to get acquainted with you and while it doesn't amount to much it keeps me more or less oriented in my job. I hope it may make you feel that we are personally acquainted and that you will feel free to come in to see me at any time to talk over your own problems.

Games To Be Featured At Freshman Party

Outdoor games will furnish entertainment at the Spartan Spear freshman party to be held Thursday afternoon at 4 to 6 o'clock on the turf north of the Women's gymnasium.

All freshman women are welcome to attend and enjoy the ping pong, deck tennis, badminton, and dart games which are being loaned by W.A.A., Lorette Marce, general chairman of the party, announces.

Alice Wilson, president of Spartan Spears, sophomore women's service society, and Miss Margaret Twombly, adviser, will be at the party to welcome the new students.

Assisting the chairman in making arrangements for the affair are: Janet Cameron, Doris Collins, Catherine Gunn, Marion Ruge, Arlene Baggott.

A special meeting of all Spartan Spears has been called tomorrow at 12 noon in Room 37 to make final plans for the party.

Science Department To Inaugurate New Class

Offering what is thought to be the only course of its kind in the West, the Natural Science department will give a class in chemistry and biology for physical education majors.

The course will consist of one quarter of Elementary Inorganic Chemistry, one quarter of Biochemistry, and one quarter of Elementary Organic Chemistry.

In addition to the above classes, second year radio and advanced photography have been scheduled for those students who wish to pursue further instructions in those departments.

Attendance in chemistry and biology was reported at a new high. Dr. Elton Stinson's class boasted of 68 names, while Dr. Jay C. Elton's class had 50.

Appointment Secretary Reveals CONSISTENT INCREASE IN Placements During Depression

"A consistent growth in placements all through the depression is perhaps the most noticeable observation about the teaching field during the last three years," declared Miss Lydia Innes, appointment secretary, when interviewed concerning those students who have been placed in the last year by the local bureau.

Miss Innes stated that during the last year more administrators have been here selecting teachers than in the last three years combined, resulting in State students being employed from Siskiyou county to the most southerly point, Needles.

Following is a list of placements released through the appointment office:

Catherine Cronkite, '35, of Atwater, Le Grand Elementary School, grades 3 and 4; Eleanor Davis, '35, of Modesto, Roosevelt School, Modesto, English and Social Science; Dorothy Dimick, '35, of Palo Alto, Huston Idaho; Marie Franke, '35, of San Jose, Fruitvale School, Bakersfield, 6 and music; Miles Harrington, '35, of Hayward, Hayward Elementary School, Music; Cherrill Harter, '34, of Woodland, Woodland Elementary School, grade 7.

Many Attractions Help Make Summer Session Success, Says Director

Attended by over 800 students, the 1935 summer session at San Jose State offered a variety of attractions and proved unusually successful, reports Dr. George E. Freeland, Dean of Education, who is also dean of the summer session.

San Jose State College was one of only two institutions which conducted financially satisfactory summer sessions, as well.

DAILY ASSEMBLIES

Ten o'clock assemblies held daily offered several interesting speakers, among whom were Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie, Dr. James C. De Voss, Mr. Joseph Pepper, Mr. Walter Bachrodt, Mr. Lawrence Chenoweth, Mr. J. R. Overturf, Mr. A. H. Horrall, and state superintendent of public instruction Vierling Kersey.

Among the interesting courses offered was a class in marionette making by Miss Myriam Toles of Berkeley, who presented a puppet show during the session. Several art classes, particularly Elementary School Art under Miss Philoma Goldsworthy, who is supervisor of art in the San Jose schools, as well as a number of art exhibits, were also of great interest.

DEMONSTRATION SCHOOL

The summer demonstration school was again conducted by Mrs. Cecile Hall and Mrs. Elizabeth Walsh, at Horace Mann, a large enrollment of children performing a great deal of creative work under their guidance, with the assistance of several student teachers.

A unique project was conducted by Miss Ivine Shields of Sacramento Junior College, who developed an A Capella choir from a non-singing group.

The annual summer barbecue of the Industrial Arts department, and an evening dance towards the close of the quarter were highlights of the social season.

Two of the most profitable courses, according to general opinion, were Junior High Methods and Junior High Counseling, by Mr. Pepper, principal of the California Junior High School at Sacramento, and Mr. Overturf, deputy superintendent of schools at Sacramento. Classes of Mr. Bachrodt, superintendent of San Jose Schools, and Mr. Horrall, also a member of the city school department, were as popular as ever.

Fifth West Coast Nature Study School Widely Attended By Faculty Members And Students Located for one week at Hartsook's on the Redwood Highway, for a second at Asilomar on the Monterey Peninsula, and for two weeks at Sequoia National Park, the fifth annual West Coast School of Nature Study, a college project sponsored by the Natural Science department, closed on July 13 with a total enrollment of 250 students.

OUTDOOR SCHOOL

An outdoor school, offering college credit and providing ideal vacation opportunities, the West Coast School is conducted each summer at three totally different locations with members of the Natural Science faculty as the instructional staff. Principals, school executives, teachers, and business people, as well as nature lovers, are in attendance each year, some having enrolled at the school since its first year. A great many of the students this season attended all four sessions of the school, which requires no examinations and offers two units of college credit per week.

Fresno was the most well represented city at the school this year.

COLLEGE FACULTY

Faculty members were Fred Buss, geology and physiography; Carl Duncan, insects; Karl Hazeltine, nature materials; P. V. Peterson, director of the school, trees and shrubs; Gayle Pickwell, birds; Emily Smith, wild flowers; and Gertrude Moore, registrar and financial secretary.

Negotiations are already underway for next year's locations, one to be in northern California, one in the south, climaxed by possibly two weeks in Yosemite Valley.

INJURIES WEAKEN SPARTAN TEAM FOR STANFORD GAME

SPARTAN SPASMS

By
MURDOCK & BISHOP

WHAT, WE ASK YOU, did San Jose ever do to deserve such a break? It verges on being a dirty, low-down piece of skulduggery. Listen while we elucidate.

In 1933 San Jose State schedules Stanford. Coach DeGroot's boys fight very hard but weaken in the end and the score is 27-0 which isn't so very awful bad. In fact, it is even pretty good.

Then, on New Year's Day 1934 little Columbia comes along and unexpectedly tricks that same Stanford team into losing a ball game. This is humiliating to Stanford, and a great many people give "Tiny" Thornhill's team the horse laugh which makes them very mad.

People keep reminding them of this and making them madder until they play their next game which just happens to be against San Jose State the next September.

AND SO what do they do? They imagine, just for the fun of it, that San Jose is Columbia (Some fun!) and turn the whole business into replica of Bull Run with the Spartans doing most of the running, after Grayson. They kept running all afternoon, but so did Grayson, and when it was all over, the scoreboard said 48-0, or something terrible like that. This supposedly helped Stanford's peace of mind, but it didn't change the Rose Bowl records. That's why it was kind of a nasty trick.

But that isn't all. Stanford doesn't stop at San Jose but keeps right on going till it gets to the Rose Bowl again with many people all over the country saying that they are the very best there is.

NATURALLY THEY are flattered, and when a guy named Dixie Howell and a fella called Hutson begin doing things with a football via the overhead route, Mr. Thornhill and his boys once again have reason to feel chagrined. If it is possible, they feel even more chagrined than the time when Columbia played them. The horse laughs pour in from every side, causing the Indians to slink back to their reservation mumbling and muttering in their blankets.

They have been mumbling and muttering ever since, and, somehow or other, those mumblings didn't bode so good for San Jose, eighteen lettermen and Modesto Junior College notwithstanding.

IT IS NOT AT ALL nice to say so, but we cannot help but remember the Retreat From Moscow at this point, only maybe it won't be so cold in the Stanford Stadium.

So, please, Mr. Thornhill, let some of those "other" guys like Jimmy Coffis, Sheldon Bronstine, Johnny Reisner, Carl Schott (Remember him?), and Johnny Campbell play for just a little while.

After all, is it San Jose's fault that Dixie Howell is a good passer? We ask you, isn't that sort of stretching things just a bit?

Team Of Destiny To Face Spartans For Third Season

BY GIL BISHOP

The Pacific Coast's greatest team—no less So say the observers of the 1935 football situation, thus setting up a prediction that Saturday's clouds will have no silver lining as far as Dud DeGroot's badly outwheeled, outmanned and seemingly already beaten underdogs. For it will be Stanford University that plays host to the invaders of the Palo Alto sanctum.

Grayson, Alustiza and Hamilton. Three men back from the 1934 junior backfield which set the Coast's football world afire with their sweeping runs, quick-kicks and cut-backs. Three seniors, well settled in rightful position of starters for "Tiny" Thornhill's cardinal-clad Indians.

A new sensation makes his way into the offensive quartet this year, taking the place of "Buck" Vandellen. He is a sophomore with a reputedly bullet arm and a husky pair of driving legs. The name is Bill Paulman and the presence of the newcomer seems to have injected the slight amount of fire and enthusiasm needed to send the farm boys "off to the races."

ALL-AMERICANS

The line of 1934 which withstood the charges of the best teams of the nation suffered but one casualty, that in the tackle spot formerly tenanted by Claude Calloway. This year finds another sophomore taking over the reins, the frosh sensation of 1933, Dale Beedle, who will start against the Staters Saturday.

Weaknesses are not apparent in the rest of the Thornhill forward wall. At ends, All-American Jim Moscrip and All-Coast Keith Topping should make it an interesting afternoon for the blue and gold clad backs of Washington Square.

Running with All-American Grayson and Moscrip will be the third Stanfordite to gain this honor in 1934, big Bob Reynolds at the other tackle post. Reynolds towers far up into the ozone and San Jose gridders will have little trouble spotting the boy from Oklahoma but plenty in getting around him.

Veteran Team Enhances Local Soccer Chances For Title Year

VARSITY FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

Sept. 28—Stanford University at Stanford.
Oct. 5—Open.
Oct. 12—Antioch Legion at San Jose.
Oct. 18—College of Pacific at Stockton. (Friday Night).
Oct. 26—Willamette University at San Jose. (Tent.).
Nov. 1—Whittier College at Whittier. (Friday Night).
Nov. 11—Redlands University at San Jose.
Nov. 16—University of Nevada at San Jose.
Nov. 22—Humboldt State at San Jose (Friday afternoon).
Nov. 28—San Diego State at San Jose (11 A. M.).

Coach Charley Walker's 1935 edition of the San Jose State soccer squad held its first workout of the season Wednesday in preparation for another year's title chase in the California Intercollegiate Soccer Conference.

Only three men from last season's fourth place team are missing from the lineup and it appears that the Spartan eleven might make its first serious threat to the leaders, California and San Mateo Junior College, this fall.

There is a possibility that a practice game might be arranged with the Stanford Indian Squad Saturday morning. Both schools have veteran teams back and it should result in an interesting battle. If scheduled, the game will take place at Palo Alto at 10 o'clock.

Once Again . . .

CAN SAN JOSE stop these boys? For two years the Spartans have been trying to halt the forward progress of Bobby Grayson (top) and Robert "Bones" Hamilton (left) with no noticeable degree of success. Saturday marks the third and last crack the locals will get at these two All-Americans. Grayson was chosen on practically every All-American team last fall and ranks with Ernie Nevers as one of Stanford's greatest fullbacks. Hamilton, heretofore at right half, appears Saturday for the first time as a left half as part of a move which sends the veteran Alustiza to right half in order to make room for sophomore Bill Paulman at quarterback.

De Groot Shuffles Squad To Obtain Best Combination

place, hurt his ankle. It failed to respond to treatment as well as had been expected, and did not practice on Monday or Tuesday. Last night he worked out gingerly in a gym suit, indulging in a few passing drills. He may play, but it is doubtful if he can stand much of a pounding.

The third fullback to fall by the way-side was dependable signal-caller Gil Bishop who twisted a knee in Tuesday's scrimmage and watched last night's practice from a pair of crutches.

This shortage of "back" men coupled with the loss of Captain "Horse" Laughlin, end, who suffered a kidney injury against Willamette and will not play, has caused De Groot to do considerable revamping in order to get a presentable starting line-up for Saturday's contest.

Jim Stockdale, last year's regular fullback who has been playing left half, moved back to his old position, and looked good in a series of plays which De Groot seems to have cooked up to take advantage of his amazing speed and passing ability.

Burt Watson, when not playing regular right half, alternated with Stockdale.

The line, too, saw several changes occasioned by injuries and other reasons sacred to the minds of the high command.

Don Baldwin was at Captain "Horse" Laughlin's right end position and Bruce Daily was at Harry Hardiman's right tackle spot, evidently as a reward for his play against Willamette.

The biggest surprise, however, was 220 pound Ray Abernathy who was running in Ronnie Redman's place at right guard, evidently indicating that De Groot intends to fight the Stanford juggernaut with poundage.

Physical Education department while the latter completes requirements towards an M.D.; Miss Wilda Bridges has been added to the Health department nurse force as assistant to Miss Grace Plum; and Mr. H. Worth Oswald will be a temporary member of the Social Science department, taking the geography classes of Dr. E. N. Torbert, who has accepted a position with the Tennessee Valley Authority.

SWEENEY MOVES

Mr. William Sweeney, formerly of the Speech department, has been transferred to the Education department, where he will assume the duties of Mrs. Cecile B. Hall, who passed away during the summer.

Dr. Earl Atkinson, who became a member of the Commerce faculty last year, will be acting head of that department this year; while Dr. Elmer Staffebach moves to the Education department as director of teacher training.

Dr. Dorothy Kaucher, returning from a year's duties on the University of California faculty, rejoins the Speech department; and Dr. Jessie Graham is again a member of the Commerce staff after teaching a year at U.C.L.A.

Dr. J. W. Slattery, who assisted in the Health department last spring, joins the faculty permanently as physician, replacing the late Dr. Bruce George.

Campus Changes Include Removal Of Quad Lights

New Linoleum Installed In Cafeteria, Labs

Several minor physical changes on the campus during the summer have increased the usability of college facilities and improved the appearance of various buildings.

Most noticeable perhaps is the removal of the two strings of lights from the quad, while the installation of new linoleum in the laboratories and cafeteria of the Home Economics department constitutes the most extensive improvement.

The backstage wall of the Little Theater has been cut to provide room for props and makeup facilities. The Speech department is negotiating for the purchase of a grand piano to be placed on the stage.

A new set of benches in the aviation laboratories, a new boxing ring in the men's gymnasium, and a partition in the small theater of the Speech wing to provide a new office for Mr. Hugh Gillis, are other additions on the campus.

Many Faculty Members Wed During Summer

Faculty romances seem to have blossomed during the summer time, with the result that eight well-known professors have joined the ranks of the benedicts, or will return with a different name.

Caroline Berry, of the art department, is now Mrs. Charles Hayes. Albert Schmoldt, science instructor, is married to Ella Mathieson; Max Heaslet, of the math department, to Virginia Camp. The speech arts department lost a bachelor in the person of Ralph Eckert, who married Elizabeth Flynn. Dr. Olive Kuntz of the social science department is now Mrs. Frank Gilliam. Another member of the art department, now teaching at Stanford, Dan Mendelowitz, married Mildred Mondschen. Mrs. Paul L. Carver, of the personnel department, was formerly Ada Jane Roberts, and Theta Manning, '29, of the music department, became Mrs. Edward Brown.

Phi Mu Alpha

Phi Mu Alpha, men's music fraternity, will hold a steak barbecue and free feed at the Lions Den at six o'clock tonight. A large turnout of active and alumni members is expected, states president Carl Bruce, as the barbecue marks the beginning of a very active year for Phi Mu Alpha.

Council Opposes Proposed Plan For New Annual

Council Gives Approval To Humor Magazine Plan

Plans for the publication of a new type of yearbook to replace the traditional La Torre, one which would ostensibly be printed in a quantity large enough to supply every student with a copy but at considerably less expense to each purchaser were unanimously opposed by members of the Student Council at a meeting held Tuesday morning.

Further discussion of the affair will take place at subsequent meetings before any decision is reached. Jewel Spangler and Jordan Kellog also applied for permission to produce a humor magazine. The concessions was granted on the condition that the Council was not to be held financially responsible.

National Ads To Be Banned From Pages Of Daily

DECREE FOLLOWS MAIN CAMPUS OPINION

No longer will national advertising appear on the pages of the Spartan Daily.

This decree was issued after vigorous campaigning and planning by Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie, Mr. Neil Thomas, and the student council, in response to a wave of strong feeling which swept the campus during the past year on the question of cigarette and tobacco ads.

Considered campus menace number one for several years, the ads will be eliminated through the appropriation of a slightly larger subsidy for the Daily, and the expansion of business manager Jack Reynolds' plans for soliciting local advertising.
